FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLIC RELEASE:

Texas National Guard Soldiers deploy to Afghanistan for second rotation

AUSTIN, Texas (Jan. 25, 2017) – On Saturday, Jan. 28, 2017 at 10:00 a.m., the Texas Army National Guard will bid goodbye and good luck to various elements and members of the 36th Infantry Division as they mobilize for a second rotation to Afghanistan in support of Operation Freedom's Sentinel. The deployment ceremony will be held at Cameron Parade Field located at Battalion Ave. and 25th Street on Fort Hood, Texas.

This mission will be the second in back-to-back rotations for the 36th Infantry Division headquarters to provide training, advice and assistance for the Afghan National Defense and Security Forces, as well as the Afghan security institutions in order to promote the long-term success of the Afghan National Defense Security Forces and the sovereignty of the Afghan government.

Additionally, the unit will provide a tactical command headquarters and several train-advise-assist teams at various locations in Afghanistan. Currently, the U.S. military contributes to the NATO Resolute Support mission to provide support to the Afghan National Defense and Security Forces as they assume full responsibility for security throughout their own country.
